Food and Drug Law Institute Announces Four New Board Members

WASHINGTON, DC – The Food and Drug Law Institute (FDLI) is pleased to announce the addition of four new members to the Board of Directors: Dean R. Cirotta, EAS Consulting Group; Amy Norris, Clif Bar & Company; Cynthia Schnedar, Greenleaf Health, Inc.; and Rachel Turow, TEVA Pharmaceuticals USA, Inc. They join 12 other highly respected leaders in the food and drug law field in serving on the FDLI Board.

Dean R. Cirotta is President of EAS Consulting Group, a firm that provides regulatory consulting to all FDA regulated industries, where he is responsible for the day-to-day management of the company. Mr. Cirotta brings 30 years of experience in the pharmaceutical, dietary supplement, and tobacco industries to this role.

Amy Norris is Executive Counsel and Senior Vice President, Legal for Clif Bar & Company where she oversees operations of the legal department, actively manages the risk management and regulatory compliance groups, and advises the company on legal and operational matters including regulatory compliance, food safety, food labeling, advertising, litigation, and domestic and international business issues.

Cynthia Schnedar is Executive Vice President of Regulatory Compliance at Greenleaf Health, Inc. where she provides strategic advice to clients in the life sciences industry. Ms. Schnedar brings over 25 years of experience to this role, including leadership positions at FDA, DOJ, and the US Attorney's Office.

Rachel Turow is Executive Counsel, Regulatory Law at Teva Pharmaceuticals USA, Inc., where she provides regulatory and legal support to Teva's specialty and generic pharmaceutical businesses and supports Teva's drug-device combination products and digital health projects.

In addition, FDLI announces the following Executive Committee changes: Daniel Kracov, Partner, Arnold & Porter has been named Vice Chair; Freddy A. Jimenez, Vice President, Law and Compliance, Celldex Therapeutics has been named Secretary and General Counsel; and Frederick R. Ball, Partner, Duane Morris LLP has been named, for a second term, Treasurer. Also serving on the Executive Committee are Chair Jennifer Bragg, Partner, Skadden, Arps, Slate, Meagher & Flom LLP and Amy Comstock Rick, President and CEO, FDLI.

In announcing the incoming board members, Chair Bragg stated, "We are excited to welcome Dean, Amy, Cynthia, and Rachel as new Board members. The knowledge and insight that these four respected and accomplished leaders bring will undoubtedly strengthen FDLI and its contributions to the food and drug law community."

FDLI thanks the three outgoing members of the Board of Directors: Stacy L. Ehrlich, Partner, Kleinfeld, Kaplan & Becker, LLP; Jeffrey N. Gibbs, Director, Hyman, Phelps & McNamara, PC; and Bob Rhoades, Managing Partner, Validant. Each made invaluable contributions to FDLI and the broader food and drug law community through their Board service.

The Food and Drug Law Institute (FDLI) is a nonprofit membership organization that offers education, training, publications, and professional networking opportunities in the field of food and drug law. As a neutral convener, FDLI provides a venue for stakeholders to inform innovative public policy, law, and regulation.
